The Municipal Bill.

EDITOR COLONIST.—It is now upwards of four months since the House of Assembly met for the dispatch of business, and yet not a single measure has become law, to which the gentlemen composing the Assembly can point, as the result of their labors. Your readers, sir, will no doubt recollect how profuse in promises were these gentlemen while canvassing for votes, previous to the last election, if the electors would only lay the burden of their suffrages upon their shoulders. Then they were all brimfull of patriotism; could talk most eloquently on the subject of the country's wants; propose measures which, if adopted, would at once remove all cause for complaint, and tend to promote the general welfare and prosperity of the Colony. We were promised that new roads should be opened up, or old ones improved; that the agricultural interests of the colony should be carefully attended to; that a liberal land system should be adopted with a view to induce actual settlement; and in fact, that nothing should be left undone by them, that could be done, to develop the resources of the country, give stimulus to trade, and by the enactment of needful and wholesome laws, promote the social well-being and comfort of the people. Of all those who decouraged so eloquently, none indulged in loftier strains, than did Mr. Attorney-General Cary to the electors of Victoria, and not one, to my mind, among the number, has become more utterly obnoxious to every pledge he then gave, than this lively gentleman. Among the multiplicity of subjects to which the hon. gentleman referred, as calling for prompt action, was an act of incorporation for the town of Victoria. All other subjects, compared with this, were in his opinion of minor importance to the people, and should the electors of the town be pleased to honor him with a seat in the Assembly, that subject should receive his immediate attention and hearty co-operation. Relying upon his promises, the people elected him, and now what has he accomplished? How much better off are the people of Victoria, for anything Mr. Cary has done for them as their representative in Parliament? What has become of the incorporation bill? True, a measure has been introduced by Mr. Cary, entitled "A Bill to provide for the incorporation of the town of Victoria," but what are its provisions he has taken good care nobody shall know, or whether it is at all adapted to meet the requirements of his constituents, is not only a mystery, but extremely problematical. The only light we have been favored with on this subject, is what you have been pleased to shed through the columns of your paper, and that of a nature anything but calculated to create an impression in its favor. Why, I would ask, should Mr. Cary so long keep his constituents in utter ignorance as to what he proposes to do touching this matter? Why carry this measure in his pocket, for months in succession, without letting the public know what he purposes doing, or consulting their views on a subject in which all classes of the community are so deeply interested? The people have a right to know, and should demand of Mr. Cary, that the bill be printed and laid before them, in order that they may judge of its merits, and, if necessary, suggest amendments. "In the multitude of counsel there is safety"; and unless Mr. Cary supposes that in him dwells all the fulness of wisdom, he will comply with this suggestion, and lay the measure before his constituents, previous to its final adoption. If Mr. Cary will not do so, but will persist in pushing through the Assembly a measure unsuitable in its provisions, and obnoxious to the views of the people he represents, let him abide the consequences. A reckoning day will come, and with it Mr. Cary's reward. Besides, the season is passing, and nothing is being done in the way of improvements. Everything is at a stand-still, waiting the adoption of Mr. Cary's bill; and unless that gentleman will condescend to move in the matter soon, the rainy season will be upon us, and all possibility of doing anything toward effecting much-needed public improvements will be at an end until next year, and the town become, as in days prior to Mr. Cary's advent amongst us, an impassable mud-hole, not one whit the better for his distinguished services as our representative, but, on the whole, a great deal worse. In conclusion, sir, allow me to say that while I agree with you that a public meeting of the inhabitants, to give expression to their views on this subject, would have a beneficial effect, I do not coincide with you in reference to petitioning the Imperial Government on a subject of this nature. My opinion is, the less we have to do with Downing Street the better. Our remedy should be at the polls. If our representatives do not carry out our views and wishes, we can, when the proper time comes, dispense with their services, and put better men in their places. We need hope for very little sympathy from Downing Street. We may lay our grievances at the feet of the Colonial Secretary, and he will quietly kick them under the table, and there they will lie unheeded and uncared for. But let us show to all concerned that we know what our rights are, and that we are determined they shall be respected, and we shall soon mould things to our own liking, without any reference to Imperial interference.

Yours, etc., Vox Populi.

Victoria, June 30, 1860.

The Royal Hospital.

This very necessary and charitable institution was established in the month of November, 1853, and the first patient took up his quarters there on the 27th of November of the same year. At that time there were a large number of persons among us who were afflicted with various complaints; and the opening of the institution was hailed by all such with joy. The hospital has been supported by voluntary subscriptions on the part of officials and citizens, and the profits of an occasional ball, theatrical performance, or concert, and church collections, ever since its erection. The hospital is in the charge of Mr. T. S. Seeley and wife; and the cleanliness and arrangements throughout, reflect much credit upon their management. The medical attendant is Dr. Trimble.

The number of patients who have sought relief at the hospital, from the day it was first opened down to the present time, is 160; of these, 131 have been discharged cured, and 21 have died; and 8 still remain.

We notice with pleasure that the Assembly has voted £300 for the support of this most worthy institution, which will assist somewhat in defraying its expenses for the current year.

Breach of Privilege.

From the report of yesterday's proceedings in the Assembly, it appears that the proprietor of this paper will be summoned to the bar of the House for a breach of its privileges, but when we cannot say; nor what the special object. So far as we are concerned, we believe we are able to justify our conduct before any tribunal that is willing to do us justice. All, therefore, that we ask is an opportunity. Had the Committee on Privileges requested us to explain the matter that has given rise to the investigation, it would have afforded us pleasure to do so. As they have not, it is hoped that the Assembly will be true to the land-marks of English liberty, and not withhold from one charged with violating its privileges a full and fair opportunity to do full justice to all concerned. Nothing is more distasteful to Englishmen than the idea of trying a man without hearing him in defence. Nothing calls up so many loud murmurs as the mode of trial adopted by the Holy Inquisition. Confront the offender with his accusers, is an English custom. It is fair; it is just; and no innocent man, with honest judges, need fear the ordeal. What course the Assembly will adopt we have no means of knowing. But whatever may be the consequences, we have but one course open—to faithfully transcribe every day history. A newspaper is nothing more. It is the public opinion of the day; what passes from mouth to mouth—from table to table—from saloon to store—from steamboat to ship—from post office or from express—from local as well as from foreign exchanges—from the bench as well as from the senate; in fact, a newspaper is but the common carrier of the public opinion of the day. The Colonist has faithfully and honestly performed that duty; collecting its information from the best and most reliable sources; but like all other public journals, may occasionally be imposed on. It may have been or not in this instance, and may be again; but when we are imposed on, we shall need be—all the element against us, on the part of the Assembly, we have not a shadow of doubt but one unanimous response will be given by the public in our favor.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.—Yesterday morning, about 5 o'clock, the body of Sergeant Emanuel Board, of the Marine corps, attached H. M. S. Ganges, was discovered by two Indians lying on the beach at Esquimalt, beneath a bluff of rocks 30 feet in height. The officers of the ship were notified, and the body taken care of until the arrival of Coroner Dickson, who held an inquest yesterday afternoon. John Allen, a comrade of the deceased, testified that he and Board were intoxicated the night before, and that deceased left him about half-past nine o'clock, to go to some Indian huts in the vicinity, after which he saw him no more alive. Several other witnesses swore to seeing Allen in company with Board, as late as ten o'clock the same night. Surgeon Roche, of the Ganges, made an examination of the body, and found several wounds on the scalp, a fracture of the frontal bone, and a lacerated wound on the upper lip. Dr. Roche gave it as his opinion that death had been caused by suffocation. The jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to his death from being struck on the head with a weapon in the hands of some person or persons unknown, and afterwards from being carried to the spot where he was found, and suffocated with water. Two Indians are in custody, charged with the commission of the crime.

THE GREAT ECLIPSE.—The eclipse announced for the 18th of the present month, will be one of the most interesting spectacles ever beheld by mortals. A States paper says: "The path of the total eclipse will be eastward from the mouth of the Columbia River, across Hudson's Bay, leaving this continent at Cape Chidley, the northeastern point of Labrador. It then crosses the Atlantic, Spain and Algeria, and passing to the north of Tripoli, leaves the earth at Massena, on the Red Sea." Five of the great planets, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury, Venus and Saturn, will approach to a direct line with the sun, and will be plainly visible without the aid of a telescope. At Olympia the eclipse will be total, and nearly so here. Smoked glass, the usual adjunct of the eye in cases of partial eclipse, to assist amateur astronomical philosophers in viewing the spectacle, will not be necessary in this case.

The Press in England.

We make the following extracts from speeches made by Lord Palmerston and Mr. D'Israeli, at the close of a discussion on some strictures of the Times. Mr. Horsman took exception to them and attempted to connect Mr. Walter, a member of parliament and one of the proprietors of the Times, with the article in question. The discussion occurred in the Commons on May 7, 1860, and the extracts submitted represent the Palmerston-whig view of the English press, and the Conservative view as as entertained by the ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer. They may be read with profit in many quarters; particularly at the present time. Lord Palmerston said:

I hope this discussion may end at the point at which it has now reached. (Hear, hear.) It has not, so far as I can see, led to any result of greater importance than the causes in which it appears to have originated. For my own part, I should not have presented myself to the notice of the House on the present occasion, were it not for the mention which my right hon. friend has made of my name. (A laugh.) My right hon. friend, in alluding to that topic, has stated that for a certain period of time—now I am glad to say gone by—I was made the subject of very bitter attacks in the columns of the Times. (A laugh.) Now it is perfectly true that during a portion of my public life I was, so far as the newspaper press is concerned, one of, I believe I may say, the best abused men in England. (Hear, and a laugh.) I, however, submitted with a patience to the attacks which were thus made (cheers), and lived on, in the belief that an answer to them would, sooner or later, be best furnished by my public conduct. (Hear, hear.) It never occurred to me to rise in my place in this House and formally to complain of what had been, with no little bitterness, said against me; but whether my example in that respect is one which is deserving of being followed, or whether those who have taken a different course acted with more propriety, I do not pretend to say.

Mr. D'ISRAELI.—They are also responsible to the public; and I for one cannot believe that a newspaper, which is conducted with a total absence of principle, or which is employed in the particular manner in which, according to the view of the right hon. gentleman, the journal in question is employed, could for so many years continue to possess that degree of patronage and confidence on the part of the public which it enjoys. (Hear, hear.) As a general principle, a newspaper must depend for its support upon public opinion, and, although The Times no doubt sins greatly in the criticisms which it passes on public men—as probably most papers do—yet we must not lose sight of the fact that a free press is, after all, a great blessing, and we must not be too ready to find fault with what we may be disposed to regard as the errors which it may commit. (Hear, hear.) The noble lord who has just spoken very playfully reminded the House that he has been subjected, in the course of his life, to considerable criticisms, but it does not, I am glad to find, appear to have done the noble lord, physically at least, any harm (laughter); and, as for the moral effect of public criticism, I believe there are few public men who may not have derived from it some profit. I myself, I believe, am in a position to speak of one who occupies a position so much inferior to that of the noble lord—had my share of hostile criticism (hear, hear, and a laugh); nor can I pretend to say that when it first began and was new to me, it was quite so agreeable (a laugh), or that I was quite so indifferent to it, as long habit has now as the criticism is able and intelligent—I care not though it may be tinged in a general way with something of malignity—public men, in my opinion, may derive from it no inconsiderable advantage. I agree with the noble lord, that with these views it is, on the whole, very unnecessary to ask the House to be the confidant of our complaints whenever we may be subjected to severe remarks. (Hear, hear.) The House must admit that if the public press in this country is to be a free press, it is not for us to criticise with too much promiscuous intellectual efforts which it must be remembered are written under conditions of immense difficulty (hear, hear.) And as for responsibility, we must always recollect that these enterprises are resorted to by the general opinion of the country, and that public opinion cannot be enlisted in their favor unless it is found that, either by their information, their criticism, or the general intelligence which pervades their performance, they are, on the whole, of advantage to the community at large. (Hear, hear.)

A NIGHT PROWLER.—A married lady, residing on Government street, was startled the other evening, about 10 o'clock, by a knock at the back door, during the temporary absence of her husband. On inquiring at the door—"who's there?" the reply was "a gentleman." Not being satisfied that the speaker had any claims to that distinction, the lady refused to admit him, and the man endeavored to force his way in. After trying for some time to effect an entrance, the fellow left just in time to escape a well-merited punishment at the hands of the lady's husband, who returned almost at the same moment.

RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY.—John I. Levy was arrested on Saturday afternoon last, on a charge of having received a gold watch and chain, valued at £25, the property of Dr. Peers, of Colquitz Farm, knowing it to have been stolen. The case was heard in the Police Court yesterday. Levy stated that he had purchased the watch in good faith from a gentleman a short time since, and had no idea of its having been stolen. His description of the man who sold the watch was taken down, and the police are endeavoring to ferret him out. Levy is out on bail.

EXCURSION TO STELLACOOM.—The Wilson G. Hunt will leave the Hudson Bay Co.'s wharf at six o'clock this evening, and arrive at Stellacoom on Wednesday morning in season for the 4th of July festivities at that place. Our American neighbors are, no doubt, bent upon having a pleasant time.

ONE DRUNK.—Only one inebriate made his appearance before the Police Judge, yesterday morning. The usual penalty was inflicted.

FROM CHINA.—The American ship Leonidas arrived in sixty days from Hongkong, China, on Saturday last. She brought 292 Chinese passengers, and 300 tons freight.

Desperate Fight between the Police and Indians—Two Warriors Slain.
Yesterday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, Mr. Horace Smith, clerk of the Police Court, Sergt. Taylor, and a posse of policemen went to the Hyter encampment and arrested the well known chief, "Captain John," and his brother, on a charge of having murdered the Tungas tyhee some weeks since. The two Indians came along very quietly, talking coolly of the affair. Arrived at the barracks, Judge Pemberton told the prisoners they would have to be looked up until the next day. They were then taken through the yard into the jail and given in charge to jailor Crowley, and as that officer was searching them, preparatory to locking them up, Capt. John spoke quickly to his brother, and each simultaneously drew a knife and made at Crowley. John's brother raised his knife and struck at the jailor's heart, and the latter, seeing the blade descending, put his hand instinctively to his breast, and the knife entered his hand, inflicting a deep and ugly wound. In the meantime, Mr. Smith grappled with Captain John, who plied his knife vigorously, cutting that officer's clothes in several places, and inflicting a slight flesh wound in his arm. Officer Whelan, who was on the outside of the prison, here rushed into the passage, seized a chair, and knocking John's brother down with it, pressed his knee upon his chest. The savage struggled to release himself from Whelan's grasp, and inflicted several slight cuts upon his leg. At this moment some one on the outside fired a pistol at the prostrate Indian, the ball from which passed entirely through the fleshy part of Whelan's thigh. Whelan staggered to his feet, and at this moment another shot was fired, which passed through Captain John's heart, and the great chief sank to the floor and died without a groan. Several other shots were here fired in quick succession, one of which struck the chief's brother in the body, and he rushed out of the passage into the inner yard, and was making at sergt. Taylor when that officer shot him down, his head striking the jail fence as he descended. He died in a few seconds after being shot the last time.

During the progress of the fight the wildest excitement was going on in town, and people came flocking from all parts of the city to the spot, and an immense crowd gathered in front of the barracks.

Last evening twenty-two members of the Union Hook and Ladder Company were sworn in to assist in guarding the town last night. A gun-boat also came up from Esquimalt before dark, and remained ready for action in case of an outbreak. Up to the hour of our going to press this morning, all remained quiet.

The bodies remained in the jail-yard last night, and Coroner Dickson has summoned a jury to hold an inquest at nine o'clock this morning.

Captain John was well known as chief of the Hyter Indians, and he, with his tribe, has long been the terror of the other natives of the northwest coast. His people are proverbial for their ferocity and their thieving and fighting propensities. The dead chief was about 5 feet 9 inches in height, rather light complexioned for an Indian, and wore heavy whiskers and moustache. He was well posted in the English language. Many years ago, before California was settled by whites, he paid a visit to that country and Mexico on board a "Boston" trading ship, and used to relate his adventures with great gusto to his white friends.

The Hyter Indians, on the reception of the news of the tragical end of their chief, were thrown into great consternation, fearing they would all be killed. Judge Pemberton, with the Rev. Mr. Duncan, visited them last evening, and assured them that they were perfectly safe from harm if they behaved themselves.

PARDON OF MATHEW NEIL.—We are pleased to learn that the Governor has pardoned Mathew Neil, an elderly man, sentenced to four years' imprisonment (in the spring of 1859) on a conviction of having killed a man at the Forks of Thompson and Fraser rivers, the fall previous. The pardon gives universal satisfaction to our citizens, who have noticed his exemplary conduct since his confinement.

AN INSANE WOMAN.—Mrs. Smith, whose husband formerly kept a store on Waddington alley, was arrested on Saturday night on a charge of assaulting Samuel Down. The woman is supposed to be insane, and is still in confinement, awaiting a medical examination.

THE $153 ROBBERY.—The case of policeman Jones, charged with having robbed one Darch of $153, has been again postponed until to-day.

The Fort Rupert Indians, in mourning for the death of their chief, have left for their home at the northern extremity of this island.

House of Assembly
MONDAY, July 2, 1860.
House met at twenty minutes past 3 o'clock, p. m. Present—Speaker Helmcken, and Messrs. Foster, Crease, Coles, Cooper, Waddington, Cary, Franklin, McDonald, Green, Tolmie and Southgate.
Mr. Crease—I wish to call the attention of this House to a different paper than the one to which I have alluded on a previous occasion for a breach of privilege. It is necessary that the newspapers should understand their relation to this House. [Mr. Crease here read the following article from the Victoria Gazette of June 28th: "It is a most unfortunate fact that we are cursed by a regular partizan system here, and however gross the attack, or however guilty the party may be, he will get no punishment. Nothing is too bad, too unfair, or too unjust to a partizan. In fact, a partizan can do no wrong in the estimation of his party. So we need look for no result."] If we haul one paper over the coals, we must treat others the same way. I move that the article be referred to the Committee of Privileges.
Mr. Waddington—I should like to see this matter referred to the Committee of the Whole of the House.
Mr. Foster—I remember, on various occasions, articles in the London Times, Observer, and other papers, reflecting in much harsher terms, not only ridiculing persons, but censuring them, and calling names too. It was during the Crimean war. The article, however, already before the Committee of Privileges, was of a totally different character. The article in the Colonist was a direct attack on the Speaker.
Mr. Crease—This is a direct attack upon the Committee of Privileges.
Mr. Cary—All I can see in the article is that it is utterly devoid of sense or English.
The motion to refer the article to the Committee on Privileges was lost; also, a motion to refer it to a Committee of the Whole.
The matter was then referred to the Committee on Privileges, and the doors closed.
At the expiration of fifteen minutes, the doors were opened, and the Committee requested that the Speaker issue his warrant for the appearance of De Cosmos, to answer before the bar of the House for the publication of the article reflecting on the Speaker. The Speaker is to choose his own time for the issuance of the warrant.
The Speaker then read the messages from the Governor to the House to the following effect: 1. Enclosing a reply to the resolution asking that the proceedings of the Council or Upper House be made public. The Council says that the resolution does not apply to that body (it being an independent legislative body) and that it has no official proceedings which it can allow to be made public. 2. Notifying the House of the receipt of the "Bill to extend the provisions of the Joint-Stock Companies Acts of 1856, 1857, and 1858; to Vancouver Island and its dependencies." 3. Returning the Bill providing for the administration of oaths in the House of Assembly, and the production of evidence before Committees of the same, with amendments.
The currency Bill was read a third time and passed.
The Fire Bill came up for a third reading.
Mr. Franklin moved that the bill be recommitted to the committee, as he wished to propose an alteration, allowing the officers of each company to elect the chief engineer, subject to the approval of the Governor, instead of the firemen at large. Lost; and the bill was passed.
The House went into Committee on the Medical Bill. Messrs. Crease, Cary, and Helmcken favored the bill; and Messrs. Waddington, Franklin, Foster, and Tolmie declared the bill a monopoly, and calculated to keep people from the colony.
Pending further discussion, the Committee rose and the House adjourned to Tuesday, the 3d of July, at 3 o'clock, p. m.

Arrival of the Hunt—Good News from the Mines.
The steamer Wilson G. Hunt arrived from the River on Saturday evening last. Ballou's Express brought down $23,000 in dust; Jeffray's Express, $6,000; Hudson Bay Company, $6,000; other parties about $5,000. Total, $40,000. Mr. H. Lee Alley has furnished us with the following items:
The new trail from Yale to Spuzzem, will be completed on the 1st September. The trail follows the river, instead of crossing high mountains as heretofore.
A few miners from Quesnelle say they left $20 diggings; but as they were under water, they thought it prudent to come down, instead of waiting for low water.
Several mule trains are reported on their way to Yale for loads, which they will take to Alexander.
The Sappers and Miners are progressing rapidly with the work of blasting around the first bluff above Fort Yale.
A canoe, loaded with China goods, was capsized on the 25th June, between Hope and Yale. The goods were all lost, and the occupants with difficulty escaped from a watery grave.
The Bishop, with Rev. Mr. Crickmer, left Yale on the 25th, for Lytton city, on foot. The Bishop purposes going to Fort Alexander.
The steamer Gov. Douglas was to leave New Westminster on Saturday last, with 400 passengers, bound to the mines.
A train of ten mules left Fort Hope on Friday last, for Boston Bar, loaded with provisions—first train over the new trail.
The Americans on the river are making preparations for the celebration of the 4th of July. One firm at Fort Hope have expended $300 for that purpose.
The weather has been very warm at Yale the past week; river rising a little.
"J. M." at Fort Yale, sends us a note, from which we take the following items:
The news from Alexander and Quesnelle river is of the most cheering nature; and it is now an established fact that rich and extensive diggings exist in that section of the country.
The gold found is principally coarse—pieces ranging from $3 to $50 have been found. You need anticipate no returning miners this season. The men there have gone too far, and endured too much, to allow the glittering prize that awaits them to slip through their grasp without an effort.
Several companies on Hill's Bar having heard good accounts from their friends on the Quesnelle, have sold out during the past few days, and gone up.
A starts some time next week with the necessary apparatus for constructing a bridge over the South Fork of the Quesnelle.

The U. S. steamer Shubrick left our harbor yesterday morning for Port Townsend.

CITY TRADE REPORT.
MONDAY EVENING, July 2, 1860.
Trade continues dull. The heavy sales of China Sugar, by P. M. Backus, Auctioneer, on Saturday morning last, realized fair prices, particulars of which will be found below. There has been some inquiry for China Rice during the day. In consequence of the large amount of China Sugar thrown on the market on Saturday, there is a decline visible in that article. The freight by the "Leonidas" was only about 300 tons of China Merchandise. The orders by the "Hunt" were not large.
FLOUR—No sales worthy of note. Golden Gate Mills remains firm, at $5.25@5.50; Golden Eye, $6; Oregon, $5.25@5.50.

CRINOLINE IN THE WORKHOUSE.—Recently seven pauper women, inmates of the South Dublin workhouse, were brought before the magistrate of the head of police, for a riot, smashing nearly one hundred panes of glass and other property. It appeared in evidence the female paupers objected to the "lanky"—the unfashionable—form of the petticoats supplied by the guardians, and with a mind to remedy the deficiency, provided themselves with various appliances, such as pieces of rope, bent canes, twigs, bits of buckram, iron hoops, etc. The supply proving inadequate to the demand, the ladies were obliged to resort to other expedients, and in plain English stole several spare petticoats from the laundry. The stolen articles were ordered to be given up, or a general and personal search should ensue. The ladies first denied all knowledge of the missing articles. A search was then attempted, and the riot broke out. Every tin, form, poker, tongs, brush, or other available weapon was flung at the heads of the officers and guardians, and great was the crash of glass, while fortunately skulls escaped with slight bruises. The ring-leaders in the riot were sent to prison and hard labor for fourteen days.

THE PRINCE'S PROGRAMME.—The Prince of Wales will leave Enland on the 15th of July. His first port on this side the Atlantic will be St John's, Newfoundland. Thence he will proceed to Halifax, and thence cross over the country and visit St. John, N. B., and Fredericton. If practicable, he will thence cross over to Shediac, where his fleet will go round to meet him, and proceed up the river to Quebec. If he finds difficulty in getting to Shediac, he may cross to Portland and come over the Grand Trunk Railway to Quebec or Montreal. From this he will proceed to Kingston, and thence to Ottawa; from Ottawa to Toronto; thence across the lake to the Falls; and back by rail to Hamilton. He will go to Sarnia to see the Grand Trunk works there, and travel over the Western States. Go to Washington, and be the guest of the President; thence visit the Atlantic cities, and I have his fleet meet him at Portland; or probably, if he comes by Portland, his departure may be from Quebec, and he may take the Grand Trunk from Portland, after the completion of the tour in the United States. It is not improbable that some of the details of this programme will be altered.

An unfortunate married man was very ill used by his Xantippe; he was even treated with an occasional thrashing. His friends rallied him upon this, and at last spurred him on to declare that he would make an effort to be master. One day not long after, his better half was so furious that he found himself compelled to seek shelter under the table. Just at this moment the voices of his friends were heard in the passage.

"Come out, come out!" cried the wife, fearful of an exposure.

"No, no," cried the husband in triumph.

"Come out, indeed; not I—I'll show for once that I am master."

DR. ADOLPHUS'
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
—AND—
Health Restorative

IS THE MOST VALUABLE AND UN-
surpassed remedy for Rheumatism and Gout to be found in the world, and known at present. The discoverer of the above medicine does claim its infallibility in all cases of Rheumatism and Gout—when used according to direction—and does offer a reward of five thousand dollars to any medicine that does supersede it, and is entirely credible. The Doctor is enabled to offer the above reward on account of his having used the above medicine for ten years in his practice, and has never known it to fail in the cure of the most protracted cases of Rheumatism and Gout, and withstood all known remedies for the profession, and throughout the State, for his cures in Rheumatism, Gout and Chronic Diseases, and has only to the continued urgent efforts of his patients, and through the desire to help them who are not enabled to see him personally, or to spend a fortune to get rid of the disease, which they have contracted in the pursuit of their daily calling; only this has been able to persuade the Doctor to give the above medicine to the public, and at such terms that every suffering one should be able to reap its benefits.

As a Health Restorative its value supersedes all the mineral waters and riches of California; and is creating a revolution in the whole treatment of disease throughout the world.

In secondary and tertiary Syphilis, Scrofula, Enlargement of the Glands, Dropsy, and all Nervous and Cutaneous Diseases, and the whole train of Chronic Diseases, which withstand and baffle the skill of the most excellent and learned physician in the world; in Chronic Diseases whose very name is a terror as well to the physician as to the patient. This medicine has proved to be superior to any in existence, and has cured in so short a time that they appear, like being abolished by magic influence, and in fact a few more such discoveries, and druggists will not need to keep a lot of useless medicines on hand, whenever they are prescribed once in a while, score they have lost through time their properties in their value did reside, if there was actually any in them.

Take this medicine when your digestive organs are disordered and your blood is impure, it will surely act on your bowels.

Take this medicine when you have a cold, and it will make you perspire freely.

Take this medicine when your urinary and absorbing organs are disordered, and it will act on your kidneys—it penetrates every part of your body, and restores the healthy action and gives tone to every organ in the human body—therefore it has rightfully deserved the name it bears: HEALTH RESTORATIVE.

The Doctor, who is averse to all patent medicines, wishes it to be understood that the above medicine is no such thing; but that he has, through the introduction of this medicine with its treatise and directions for use, made every sufferer to be his own physician in the above named diseases.

Thinking it under my dignity to follow the mode of quacks, by appending certificates of physicians or private persons, which is too well known can be had for certain remunerations, applications of friends, or by the mode of boring a man half to death for even the most worthless trash, I will therefore leave it to those in want of medicine to inquire personally of the above diseases, and who can be found in almost every city and village throughout the State. I consider such personal conviction far superior to certificates of persons that are far from being known to them in want of medical aid.

But should any one care for written testimonials or certificates regarding the cures performed by this medicine, they might call at my office, and I will show them certificates of true merit, which have been sent to me voluntarily, without applying for them, or by boring individuals to get them.

To satisfy the most scrupulous of men, also as a guarantee to those that have not had the opportunity of knowing the Doctor by reputation or personally, I have adjoined to every bottle of the Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, the certificate, under oath, of one of the most celebrated analytical chemists in the United States, that there are no minerals nor poisons contained in this medicine, although it is a very powerful medicine, and has a very strong action on the human system, which it necessarily must have, to overcome the action of disease of such malignant character.
